Young Talk Session

Norman Putsure College

The College hosted a thought-provoking Young Talk session on January 19, 2026.

The speaker was Searon Yanthan, a dynamic entrepreneur and industry expert. As Director Marketing at Lithanro Pvt. Ltd and Founder of Juro Coffeehouse, Yanthan shared his journey and expertise with students.

Yanthan's talk highlighted the importance of innovation, risk-taking, and perseverance in entrepreneurship. He also discussed the challenges and opportunities in the coffee industry, drawing from his experiences as a coffee farmer and producer.

The Q&A session was lively, with students asking insightful questions about entrepreneurship, marketing strategies, and coffee production. Yanthan's responses provided valuable insights, inspiring students to explore entrepreneurial paths.

The event was well-received, with attendees appreciating Yanthan's engaging presentation and advice. The College aims to host more such sessions to foster entrepreneurship and industry awareness among students.

Young Talk
Date- 29/07/26

The college successfully organized an interactive "Young Talk" session today, featuring a distinguished scholar, educator, and author Mr. Jungshi Jamir as the guest speaker. The event commenced with an insightful discourse on the ultimate value of knowledge, during which Mr. Jamir urged the student community to cultivate deep academic curiosity, sharpen their critical thinking skills, and expand their learning horizons. Transitioning into a practical masterclass on literacy and authorship, he shared invaluable guidance on nurturing an interest in creative writing and detailed the essential steps required to navigate the competitive global book publishing industry, drawing inspiration from his own upcoming non-fiction book contract with Hachette. Furthermore, reflecting on his expansive personal journey of studying across three distinct continents which includes completing multiple associate degrees at Citrus College, a Bachelor's degree at California State University, Bakersfield, and a Master's degree at Keele University in England ,Mr. Jamir provided a strategic roadmap for local students seeking to transition outside Nagaland for higher education. The highly engaging session wrapped up with an extensive question-and-answer period, providing the students with a clear sense of direction and newfound motivation to proactively seek out global scholastic opportunities and publish their own creative works.

Financial Awareness and Money Management Seminar

Norman Putsure College
Date- 17/08/26

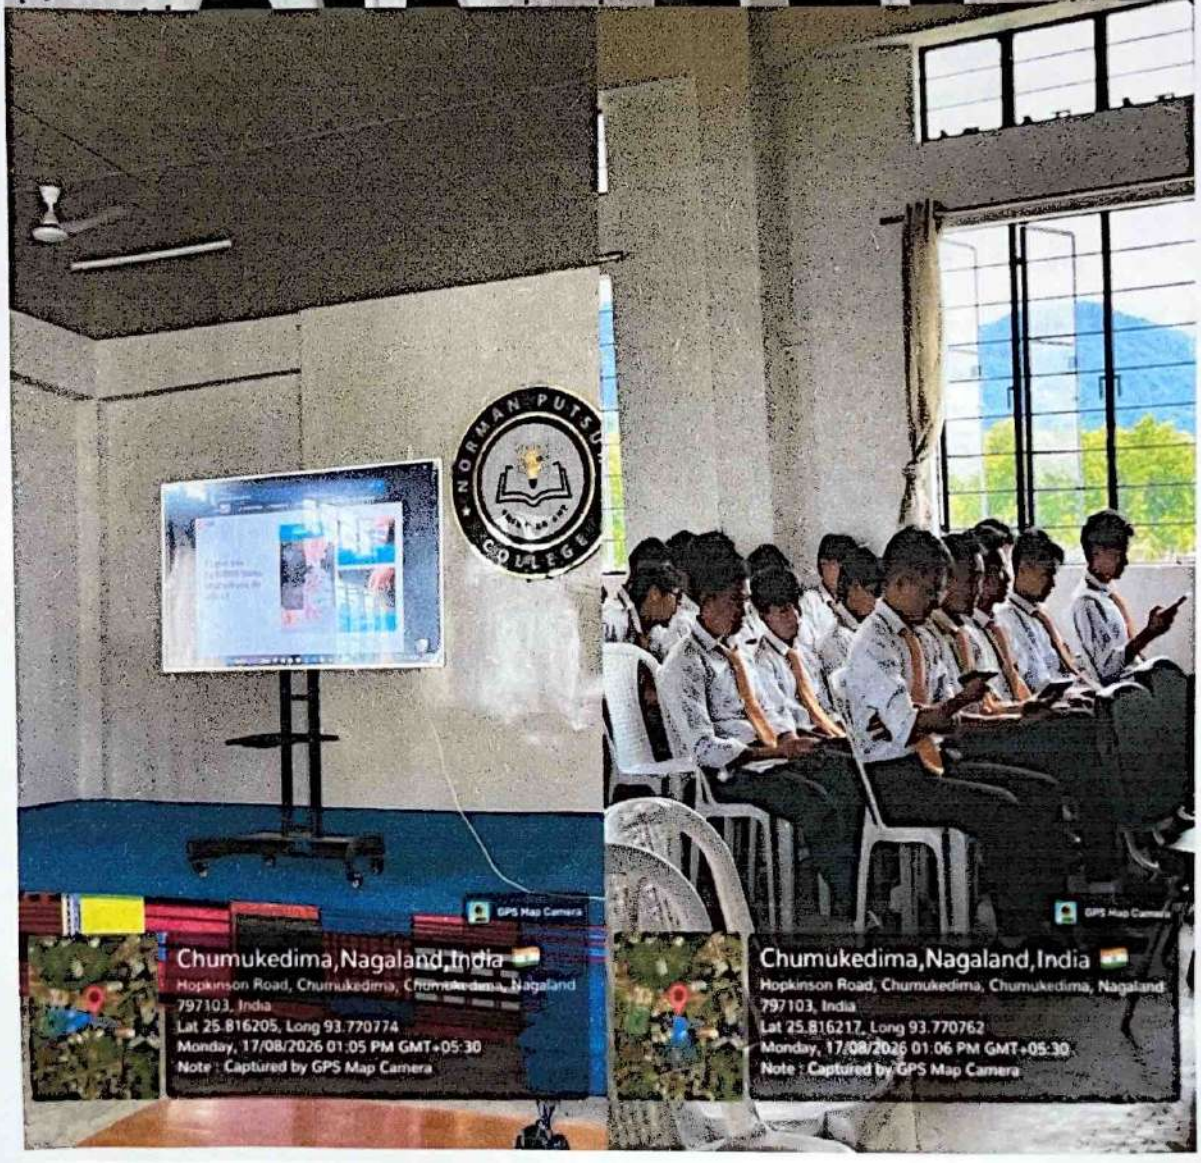

A comprehensive seminar on financial awareness and money management was successfully organized for the student community at Norman Putsure College, drawing an active attendance of 50 students. Coordinated through direct communication with the institution's administration, the program was presented as part of a national educational initiative associated with the National Stock Exchange (NSE) and the Securities and Exchange Board of India (SEBI).

This highly specialized, one-hour training session was backed by structural frameworks under the Ministry of Finance, Government of India, and was delivered entirely free of cost to maximize student participation and institutional outreach. The session was conducted by guest speaker Sheeba Gopi, an expert trainer who specialized in translating complex economic concepts into highly practical life skills for young adults preparing to enter the professional world.

Throughout the extended session, Sheeba Gopi thoroughly addressed the core pillars of personal financial literacy, emphasizing the critical importance of early wealth management and strategic planning to the 50 students in attendance. The discussion began with foundational guidelines on budgeting and saving, providing the group with realistic methodologies to track personal expenses, curtail unnecessary spending, and build secure emergency funds.

The speaker then transitioned into modern investment principles, demystifying the stock market, explaining varying asset profiles, and highlighting the relationship between financial risk and reward. Crucially, the presentation also focused heavily on consumer safety, teaching students how to identify fraudulent schemes and utilize regulatory safeguards established by corporate market authorities. By combining theoretical market insights with actionable daily habits, the seminar effectively empowered the students of Norman Putsure College to take proactive control of their financial choices and build strong fiscal foundations for their futures.
